Heavy Overcast of Smoke From Huge Forest Fires In Canada Turns the Afternoon Into Night

A heavy overcast covered Pennsylvania yesterday, plunging much of the state into an early darkness, coloring the skies yellow, orange and purple, and indirectly causing one death.

Meteorologists attributed the overcast to palls of smoke drifting southward at high level from vast forest fires which have raged for the past week in northern Alberta, Canada.

The blanket of smoke, 10,000 feet thick and extending over hundreds of miles, turned day into night throughout Warren county. Street lights were turned on, and motorists drove with their car lights burning in an effort to penetrate the haze.

The eerie quality of the haze had many residents thinking in terms of an atomic bomb or the "Day of Judgment" until an explanation that the blackout was caused by smoke palls was broadcast over the radio.

Three Are Killed, Well-Known Golfer Hurt In Crackup

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 25.—(P)—A Civil Air Patrol plane crashed and burned in a railroad yard near here last night, killing three officers and seriously injuring Skip Alexander, top-flight professional golfer.

Neighbors found the 32-year-old Lexington, N. C. golfer crawling into a field, his clothes afire. At Deaconess Hospital, he was expected to recover.

At Sioux Falls, S. D., where the plane was based, the CAP listed the dead as:

Col. James R. Barnett, 44, of Sioux Falls, commanding officer of the South Dakota wing of CAP. He was president of a roofing company and well known as a former band leader. He is survived by a widow and seven children.

Lt. Oliver A. Singleton, 28, formerly of Van Buren, Ark., but a resident of Sioux Falls for the last year.

Lt. Duane M. Reeves, 28, also of Sioux Falls, and an employee of Barnett's Roofing Co.

Lt. Forrest Elliott, deputy wing commander of the South Dakota CAP, made the announcement and said the next of kin had been notified. He said the plane had left (Turn to Page Eight)

Other officers chosen were George A. Needle, Jr., of Parkersburg, president; Capt. D. T. Wright, of St. Louis, honorary president; Dr. Robert McAttee, of Oil City, vice president and treasurer.

Needle, who was reelected, declared the public must give its all-out support if it wants the government to make the Allegheny river navigable north of Oil City to the New York state border.

About 50 persons attended the meeting.

Brilliant "Whatzit" Observed at Irvine

Four employees of the National Forge Co., reported they saw a particularly brilliant light in the sky Saturday night at 9:15 o'clock, which moved rapidly south-west over Irvine.

The brilliant object was seen by the Forge nurse, the gate-keeper, a watchman and a time-keeper. At first, the light was thought to be lightning, but upon looking into the sky a brilliant ball of flame was seen.

From one angle the object seemed to be circular while from another angle it appeared to be an elongated cigar-shaped body. The four people who saw this "whatzit" are all sure they saw something very brilliant, moving very rapidly, but like all other stories of this nature... if anybody really knows, they're not telling.

Yugoslavia Asks Re-Establishment Of 38th Parallel

New York, Sept. 25.—(P)—Yugoslav vice premier Edvard Kardelj called today for the temporary re-establishment of the 38th parallel as the demarcation line in Korea. He attacked those supporting North Korea's aggressive course.

In a policy speech before the U. N. general assembly, the Yugoslav official declared that Premier Marshal Tito's government "considers that the present policy of the government of North Korea does not serve the cause of the true independence and unity of the Korean people."

In the same speech he charged that the Soviet bloc is increasing the pressure on Yugoslavia by provoking border incidents almost daily.

Although he did not mention the Soviet Union or Communist China by name, Kardelj's meaning on Korea was obvious when he said: "Those who are inspiring the policy and activities of the North Korean government have embarked upon an aggressive course, whose consequences will have to be borne by the people of the whole world."

Kardelj's statement regarding the 38th parallel came at a time when it appeared likely U. N. forces in Korea soon might reach that old dividing line. He made no specific reference to U. N. troops. In the security council Yugoslavia abstained on the June resolution ordering military action against North Korea.

Simultaneously Yugoslavia introduced two resolutions designed to strengthen the assembly's efforts to prevent aggression.

One calls for the establishment of a permanent mediation commission made up of small powers. The other requires a nation involved in armed conflict to issue a cease-fire order within 24 hours and to withdraw its armed forces from disputed territory. Failure to do so automatically would brand the country as an aggressor.

The two Yugoslav anti-aggression proposals were brought in as the 59-nation assembly began the second week of its current session.

Taxes, Statehood, Rent Control Are Big Issues Facing Congress

Washington, Sept. 25.—(P)—Taxes on swollen business profits, statehood for Hawaii and Alaska and possibly rent control look like the big issues when congress returns to Washington two months from now.

Even those problems may be too big to handle in a quick session between Nov. 27 and the Christmas holidays.

They were the major left-overs when weary lawmakers knocked off work late Saturday with a slap at President Truman—a thumping rejection of his veto of a stiff anti-Communist bill.

The bill was put on the law-books when the senate voted 57 to 10 to override the veto. That was 12 votes more than the two-thirds majority needed. The house had overturned the veto within an hour after Mr. Truman sent it to Capitol Hill Friday afternoon. The vote there was 286 to 48.

Farm Bureau Federation Heads Sharply Criticized By Brannan

Washington, Sept. 25.—(P)—Secretary of Agriculture Brannan today charged the leadership of the American Farm Bureau with making "untruthful and vicious" attacks on him in their fight over the Brannan farm plan.

Brannan said in a letter to Federation President Allan B. Kline that a spokesman and a publication of the farm organization have intentionally misstated his position with regard to reserves of farm crops.

The letter was another round in a Brannan-Kline feud that grew out of a Brannan proposal last year to support prices of perishable farm products by means of government payments.

Under the Brannan plan, consumer prices would be lower than under the present price support system in which the government buys and removes surplus perishables from the market.

Kline has made many speeches bitterly opposing the Brannan plan. Brannan wrote that Kline's personal spokesman, Roger Fleming, chief of the bureau's Washington office, said in a speech at Columbia, Tenn., Aug. 1, that the Brannan plan would have "dissipated the reserves of corn, cotton and wheat and other storables."

Brannan said this statement—which he branded as "wholly untrue and a disservice to farmers"—was repeated in a farm bureau publication.

"It is an attack designed to use the Korean situation as a means of destroying the confidence of all groups of Americans, not just farmers, in the present administration of farm programs."

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 25.—(P)—Parachutists have been dropped to begin rescue operations for 18 United States airmen whose B-50 bomber crashed Thursday in Labrador wilderness; the Fort Pepper air base reported today.

The stricken bomber was discovered last night after being missing for three days, and a U. S. air force team immediately took steps to evacuate the men by helicopter. The helicopter will move the men to a nearby lake, where a Canadian amphibian plane will pick them up.

The Royal Canadian Air Force said an RCAF Lancaster spotted the plane some 95 miles southwest of Goose Bay.

The U. S. air force unit at Goose Bay began immediate preparations to evacuate the 32 crewmen and four passengers, missing on a routine flight from Goose Bay to Tucson, Arizona. All are military personnel.

A helicopter is expected to make the tricky flight today to pick up the survivors and transfer them to the shore of a nearby lake. An amphibian plane will fly them to Goose Bay.

It was presumed evacuation could be completed today, barring bad weather.

Findings of the missing air giant climaxed a vast air search extending from the wilds of Labrador to the Arizona desert. Scores of Canadian and American planes took part in the hunt.

Smoke signals attracted the Lancaster to the area where the 18 survivors had constructed a shelter. Signs on the rocky ground asked for food and supplies. No medical supplies were requested. Officials interpreted this as signifying no one was badly hurt.

News of the discovery came over a shaky air force wireless service, muffled by static.

Cause of the crash remained undetermined. The plane had a gasoline supply to last 17 hours. Normally the flight from Goose Bay to Tucson would take 12 hours.

WORKMAN IS INJURED IN FALL FROM ROOF
William Sedon, 101 Parker St., was seriously injured Saturday when he fell 14 feet to the ground from the roof of the Coppenhoefer home at 17 Parker street where he was making repairs. He was taken to Warren General Hospital where he was found to be suffering from a fractured pelvis, right leg and right wrist. His condition, regarded as serious, is somewhat improved today, hospital authorities report.

Naming of Board Presents a Ticklish Task For Truman

Washington, Sept. 25.—(P)—President Truman faced the ticklish political problem of naming a five-man board to fill a key role in enforcement of the new Communist control act he roundly denounced.

Congressional enactment of the law over Mr. Truman's veto brought a prompt pledge to enforce it "vigorously" from attorney general McGrath, who like the president had opposed it.

But McGrath's justice department can take no action under one of the bill's major provisions—that calling for registration of Communist organizations and their fronts—until establishment of a subversive activities control board (SACB).

That board of five men—not more than three, of whom can be from the same political party—must decide after hearings whether or not an organization is required to register under the law. It will act upon complaints by the justice department.

Government attorneys likely to be concerned with the enforcement problem said no consideration had been given so far to the possible personnel.

The law was not put on the statute books until late Saturday when the senate voted 57 to 10 to override Mr. Truman's strongly worded veto, in which he used such words as "unworkable" and "hydraulic." The house had voted to override by a 286 to 48 vote. Both votes were well over the required two-thirds majority.

Only 10 Democratic senators voted to sustain the president's veto. The lone senate Republican supporter of Mr. Truman, Senator Langer of North Dakota, had collapsed of exhaustion in the pre-dawn hours Saturday after assailing the bill for five and a half hours.

Langer was one of the small group which forced the senate to stay in session around the clock to reach a vote on the controversial veto—the last item of any importance to be acted upon before the law-makers shut up shop until Nov. 27.

Narcotics Agent Is Shot During Raid

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 25.—(P)—One federal narcotics agent was killed and another wounded in a Sunday morning opium raid on a downtown hotel here.

Four men, one of them wounded in an exchange with the agents—were taken into custody.

Killed by a bullet through the heart was A. M. Bangs, 50, chief of the U. S. Narcotics Bureau for the northwest area. Joseph Winberg, 27, a narcotics agent, was shot through the side.

John Wong, 50, is held under guard in a hospital. He was wounded five times. Doctors said both wounded men have a chance to recover.

Bangs, Winberg and a third Wong and three other men in an agent, Virgil Magnuson, found Wong and three other men in a hotel room authorities said. Some were smoking opium. Leaving Magnuson to guard the other three, Bangs and Winberg took Wong to his own room after he told them he had more opium there.

"He went into the closet—and brought out this jar of opium," said Winberg in a statement from his hospital bed.

"Bangs asked him if that's all he had. He reached back and whipped out a gun.

"We both jumped him and he shot me first and I fell and the three of us were in the closet and wrestling around and he shot Bangs too. I grabbed his gun to keep him from shooting any more and Bangs finally pulled out his gun and he shot Wong."

U. S. Patrols Also Penetrate Chongju In Pincers Maneuver

KOREA AT A GLANCE

By The Associated Press

Seoul: Marines and infantry slush deep into Seoul hoping to capture South Korean capital three months from day Red invasion started. Air-borne troops land at Kimpo airfield to join Seoul battle as reinforcements pour into Allied beachhead at Inchon. U. S. Seventh Infantry drive through Osan, 30 miles south of Seoul.

Southern Front: U. S. First Cavalry division appears into Chongju, only 40 miles from linkup with Seventh Division, which would trap hundreds of thousands of Reds. Americans take Kimchon. U. S. forces in southwest capture Chinju, former key to Communist southwest offensive. South Korean troops take Andong, 40 miles north of Taegu, enter Yongdo on east coast.

Air War: B-29s, light bombers and fighters hit North Korean and frontline targets in record day.

Tokyo, Sept. 25.—(P)—Allied forces stabbed deep inside Seoul tonight against desperate Red Korean resistance.

U. S. Marines planted the American flag on a hilltop in the capital less than two miles from a major Allied goal—the modern Duk Soo palace.

To the southeast, U. S. First Cavalry armored patrols drove into Chongju, only 40 miles from the nearest point of the Korean second front spreading out from the Inchon-Seoul beachhead.

Seventh Division patrols striking south from Seoul punched through Osan, 30 miles south of the capital. Osan was the city where American troops first entered the war early in July.

The First Cavalry task force had driven 70 miles in four days. A link-up of the two forces threatens to seal tens of thousands of Red troops in the south. The fight for Seoul was pushed against Communist troops fighting from mud-hut to mud-hut. Other Reds held high points and poured deadly fire into Allied forces.

One of these was South Mountain, a commanding 700-foot hill in southern Seoul. Seventh Division troops crossed the Han River Monday under cover of dawn mists and thrust against the hill position.

The stars and stripes waved over the highest point in Seoul's southwest Tong Mak Sang district. It was put there Sunday night by marines of Col. Lewis (Cheaty) Puller's First Marine Regiment.

Tenth Corps officers expressed hope the flag would show within a few hours over Duk Soo in the heart of Seoul.

Marines, doughboys and South Koreans drove on the city's center from the southeast, southwest, west and north.

Puller's regiment stormed across the bridgeless Han Sunday morning near Yongdugpo. It bit deep into the Tong Mak Sang district and threw mortar and artillery fire at Red defenders on South Mountain and the big Seoul army barracks nearby.

Marines searched a jail in the southwest district, seeking 3,000 American prisoners reported in Seoul. But a South Korean underground operator said the Reds had removed them several days ago.

South Korean Marines drove across ridges on the western side of the city.

U. S. Fifth Regiment Marines who made the first Han river crossing last Wednesday were (Turn to Page Eight)

Convicted Slayers Are Electrocuted

Bellefonte, Sept. 25.—(P)—Two convicted holdup slayers died in the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary today.

First to go to the chair was Alexander Niemi, 31, who was pronounced dead at 12:31 A. M. EST. His companion, Walter Maloney, 32, was pronounced dead at 12:39 a. m.

Niemi and Maloney were convicted on first degree murder charges in the shooting of Jacob Davis during a Chester, Pa., tap-room holdup Jan. 6, 1949.

Both Niemi and Maloney appealed their convictions to the Pennsylvania supreme court but the appeals were denied. Niemi later asked the state pardons board to consider his case, but that plea also was rejected.

"LIFE OF HER OWN" AT THE COLUMBIA THEATRE

Lana Turner is back! With the appearance at the Columbia Theatre of the popular Lana, co-starred with Ray Milland in "A Life of Her Own." Milland, an Academy Award winner, heads the men in Lana's life in the dynamic love story, while three other men also figure prominently in the heroine's rise to the position of top Cover Girl. They comprise Tom Ewell, Broad-way's "most awarded actor," who scored as the gun-ridden husband in "Adam's Rib" and who now enacts the head of a model agency in which Miss Turner gets her start toward fame-Louis Calhern, last seen as Buffalo Bill in "Annie Get Your Gun" and now coaching a corporation lawyer who attempts to help the small town girl make her way around the big city-Barry Sullivan, who played a "nice guy" in "Nancy Goes to Rio" and who now reveals his ver-satility in the role of a "heel."

NO REDS IN AIR, SO AA-GUNS TAKE TO FIELD—New U. S. 90-mm. anti-aircraft guns went into action for the first time during the big push past Waegwan in South Korea. For the lack of Red planes in the air, the new AA pieces doubled as field artillery. They are seen in position on the Waegwan front. (Exclusive NEA-Acme Telephoto by Staff Correspondent Ed Hoffman.)

DOUBLE WEDDING

By Adelaide Humphries

Chapter 3

AS STEPHANIE waited for her first glimpse of Sandy, she prepared herself to see a stranger. Yet when she saw him—her heart leaping to her throat—he looked almost exactly as he had. As tall, as big, as fair. A bit thinner, a few more lines in his face. But his eyes were as intensely blue. And when they saw her—she, a slender, tall girl dressed in beige, standing a little apart—she looked up at him with the same laughter she had remembered.

"They do come true," he said, shaking his head wonderingly, his laughing mouth held in a dubious smile.

"What does?" she asked.

"Dreams. What else? And you. It is you isn't it, Stevie? Just the same. Just exactly the same! As gorgeous, as delectable, as sweet as ever."

"Of course, Sandy!" she said, wishing her heart would settle back down where it belonged.

"Fear, heart!" he cried. "I'd like to kiss you—the very daylight's out of you, my pet. But not here. A much more secluded, seclusive spot—Where are we going? Where are we staying?"

"That's all arranged," Stephanie said quickly. Her heart was beating better. "I'm parked right across the street."

"Lead the way, baby. I did not expect to be met in such style."

"We're not going to Mother's," Stephanie said. "We're going to a cottage out at the lake about it."

"Okay by me," Sandy replied.

"However," he added, "I hope it isn't too quiet. It's been quiet enough where I've been."

"Was it very bad, Sandy?" She tried to keep the pity out of her low voice. "I don't mean that I expect you to tell me about it."

"I survived. I'm all in a piece," he said, always lightly mocking, he'd a tinge of irony. "I'll give you all the gory details later," he tacked on with his wide grin.

"I say, that looks like old Bill! Bill Davidson. Pull up, Stevie, run him to the curb, give him your horn."

"Not now!" she answered more sharply than intended. It was Bill Davidson, one of Sandy's old cronies. But Stephanie did not want Sandy to talk with him—until she had had the talk that loomed ahead like a formidable bridge that must be crossed.

"Why not?" Sandy's brow furrowed with a deep scowl.

"There'll be plenty of time," Stephanie returned, striving to speak more lightly. "We'll have a party, all the old crowd, if you like. I should think you'd realize I want you just to myself for a while."

"THE end is nowhere," Sandy remarked, as the car drew to a standstill. "Still, it should be a likely spot for a second honeymoon."

"You will like it, won't you, Sandy?" Stephanie asked, a throb of wistfulness in her voice, a shade of anxiety in her eyes.

"It's not too bad," Sandy responded. His voice held its teasing note, but his grin, the merriment that sprang into his blue eyes, gave reassurance. He put his arm around her slender waist and drew her to him, almost roughly. "With you here, Stevie, it may not be bad at all."

His kisses were rough, too; hungry, fierce. Then as suddenly he let her go, so that she stumbled a little and had to catch hold of a chair-back.

"Still the Ice Queen," he said. There was no laughter in his blue eyes. He turned from her and went over to the fireplace and threw himself down into a big chair.

"I'm sorry, Sandy." She knew what he meant. She had suffered his kisses, she had not responded to them at all. But it was too soon.

"Shall I fix something?" Stephanie asked. She forced her voice to sound gay. "It's teatime."

"I'd like a scotch and soda much better," Sandy interrupted shortly.

"Scotch and soda it shall be then!" Her response was prompt and cheerful.

Over the scotch and soda Sandy said, that deep furrow in his smooth forehead once more, "Well, let's have it, Stevie."

She put down her cup of steaming tea, raising startled eyes to meet his.

Before she could say anything, he said again, more curtly this time, "Shoot. I know there's something I knew it the second I saw you, took your hand in mine. You're not very glad to have me come back from the grave, are you, my love?"

"I'm very glad," she said. "I hoped you would wait, but there is something I must tell you, Sandy. If you insist, I'll try to tell you now."

She took a sip of her tea, put it down again. Her voice was steady.

"Sandy, I wanted to be the one to tell you before you heard it from anyone else. I wish I didn't have to tell you—hurt you. I was married, Sandy—to someone else, I mean."

A sound stopped her, the low muffled sound that came from his throat.

But this ended on a higher note. The high shrill note of laughter. For that was what Sandy did—threw back his head and laughed. Well, maybe it was a laughing matter—this Enoch Arden triangle. Maybe you had to laugh, in order to believe it, "take" it on the chin.

Plan To Register Doctors On Oct. 16

Harrisburg — (AP)—Oct. 16 has been tentatively fixed for the start of registration of Pennsylvania doctors, dentists and veterinarians for military service.

Henry M. Gross, state draft director, said first registrants will include:

(1) Doctors and members of allied professions who have had army or navy medical training with less than 90 days' active duty.

(2) Those who were granted World War Two deferments to attend medical school.

Women are excluded.

The Oct. 16 registration date, he said, will not be fully decided until final directions are received from National Selective Service headquarters.

He said medical personnel who register will be selected for military service by local draft boards.

Gross added that he is now working with the state medical society and state health department to set up a list of eligible medical personnel who will be required to register.

Persons selected in the medical draft, he explained, will be determined on the basis of whether they can be spared by local communities.

Subsequent registration dates will include medical personnel who have had 90 days or more of active duty but less than 21 months.

A new federal law permits the induction of medical personnel under 50 years of age.

Coal-Fired Turbine In Testing Stage

Pittsburgh — (AP)—The coal-fired gas turbine locomotive on which Bituminous Coal Research has been working for many months is in the testing stage.

This was revealed by Harold J. Rose, director of research, after a meeting of BCR board of directors. BCR is composed of about 300 coal companies and railroads.

Rose said a full-sized model of the turbine was delivered by Allison-Chalmers Company this week to the Dunkirk, N. Y. plant of the American Locomotive Company. It is now being given a locomotive sized installation and will receive extensive tests.

BCR hopes the coal turbine will offer serious competition to diesel engines, which have been threatening to drive coal-fired locomotives off the tracks. Spokesmen say the turbine, when perfected, will have a greater efficiency in burning coal, will require no water and have a lower operating cost than diesels.

Rose also told of two years' work on a continuous coal mining machine which will be ready to enter the mines for trials early in November.

It will have rotating cutting heads with central busting screws which release lumpy coal with low power consumption," Rose said. "The novel cutting bits are expected to yield substantial savings in conventional mining practice, also."

At the same time, Rose added, "an extensible shaker-conveyor has been developed that will permit the continuous mining machine to advance up to 300 feet without interrupting the mining operation. This conveyor is ready for commercial refinement and exploitation."

BCR announced a budget of more than one and one-third million dollars for research projects in the coming year. Of this $400,000 is allocated to general research and individual industries will contribute another $200,000 for the same purpose. The rest will be divided between locomotive and mining development.

BCR officials said, however, that coal-fire gas turbine and continuous mining machine projects are being financed out of separate funds and do not come out of the organization's annual budget.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 25—(AP)—In 1946, congress, top-heavy and out of date, reorganized itself to do business better.

How has the reorganization worked? It has and it hasn't. Some things have turned out pretty well. Some, hardly at all.

You probably can expect that result in a place where all 436 house members and the 96 senators are trying to have a finger in the pie.

One thing that's been a complete bust is congress' attempt to have its own budget.

On the other hand, the 1946 act wiped out a battalion of unnecessary committees, and congress has stuck to that plan more or less well.

Take the case of the budget. Every year the president and his advisers in the executive branch of the government estimate how much it will cost to run the government another year.

Then they send this estimate—called the budget—to congress, asking it to vote the necessary money. This budget goes to congress every January.

In the past, congress tackled this budget piecemeal, voting this government department so much, that one so much.

And it never knew, and never was in a position to know, how much money it was going to vote altogether until the session was over.

The reorganization act tried to improve that sloppy performance by this plan:

Congress would receive the president's budget estimate in January, and no later than mid-February would come up with an estimate of its own.

Then it was supposed to stick

YOUNGSMVILLE PTA BEGINS NEW SEASON

Youngsville, Sept. 25—There was a very good attendance for the first meeting of the Youngsville PTA for the new school year. Mrs. Marian Abraham presided at the business session in the school auditorium. The suggestion was made that a Variety Show might be a desirable way of earning money for some of the association's needs and announcement was made that the Pre-school Mothers Club will meet the last Tuesday of each month.

Mrs. McAllister was program leader and Superintendent Paul Getts introduced all members of the school faculty, with a few special words concerning all those teaching for the first time in the local school. Later, in the social hour, there was opportunity for parents to greet the instructors.

Mr. Getts gave a short talk in which he asked the cooperation of all parents in planning subjects to be taught in the schools, with subjects desired included in the program whenever possible. He said he would appreciate ideas from parents concerning subjects to be taught in the high school, recreation, forms of health instruction, and in what way the school schedule can be improved by reorganization. He also spoke of the summer recreation and music groups and explained how these subjects are handled during the school year.

Program features included a recitation by Mrs. Pauline Halfast, "My Teacher Knows", as a salute to teachers. A pleasing accordion solo was played by Sandra Johnson and a lovely vocal number given by Jeannine Williams. All were then invited to the cafeteria for refreshments served by a committee of school mothers.

ST PAUL'S EVENTS

Wednesday—6.30, a tureen supper will be held by choir members and their families in the church basement, with rehearsal following at 8.30 p. m.

"I GET WONDERFUL RELIEF NOW FROM HOT FLUSHES"

Urged Every Woman 38 to 52 Years Old to Read This!

"I had heard so many stories about the functional middle-age period peculiar to women—I hoped I'd escape such symptoms. But I didn't. I found myself terribly embarrassed by hot flushes—I suffered such restless nights, and I could sense myself getting irritable and cranky—due to this cause.

"My druggist recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. I can understand now why he called it 'the woman's friend.' Pinkham's Compound gives me amazing relief. I find if I take it regularly, I don't miss a day—it helps build up resistance against such middle-age distress."

P. S. Pinkham's Compound is very tasty in a little fruit juice. Or you may prefer Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS with added iron. Handy to carry in your purse.

Russell WSCS Has Busy Session To Plan Activities

Russell, Sept. 25—Eighteen members of the WSCS attended the regular meeting held in the Methodist church, Mrs. Gerry Briggs calling the meeting to order and all singing, "Jesus Is All the World to Me". Mrs. Fred Root read the Scripture and offered prayer.

It was voted to send two delegates, the president and vice president, to the WSCS conference in Erie September 27-28, with any others interested welcome to go as guests.

The secretary of mission, Mrs. Martha Houghwot, read an interesting letter from Elizabeth Dalby, missionary in Africa, to whom the society sent quilt pieces. Mrs. Andrew Lindell, secretary of local church activities, then took charge and all stood in a moment of silent prayer in memory of Mrs. C. H. Vermilyea, whose birthday was September 20, after which Mrs. Buck gave a short prayer.

A bill of $164.17 for repairs to the parsonage and one for $26 for awnings were ordered paid. It was also voted to give $5 to the rescuistator fund and to advance money to the bazaar committees for materials. The bazaar will be held in the church basement on Election Day, beginning at 10 a. m. It was also planned to have a bake sale at the same time and place, with Mrs. Claude Ferrigo and Mrs. Bennie Baxter in charge; and a silver team from 2 until 4, in charge of Mrs. Ernest Peterson and Mrs. Fred Root.

The group discussed, also, the holding of a reception for Rev. and Mrs. Buck and the school teachers at 8 p. m. Tuesday, October 3, at the church. Mrs. Clyde Biggs was appointed program chairman, with Mrs. Scott Phillips and Mrs. Richard Enos as the refreshments committee.

For the program, Mrs. Paul Wood presented a question and answer period on WSCS work and read several articles. A flower collection amounting to $1.14 was taken. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer in unison and refreshments were served by Mrs. Alice Moll, Mrs. Martha Houghwot, Mrs. George Hedges and Mrs. Paul Lindell.

A color scheme of yellow, silver and white was carried out in a lovely table arrangement, a bride in the center, with candles and flowers, and over all, a large wedding bell with white streamers, suspended from the ceiling. A pretty arrangement of white flowers decorated the buffet and was then presented to Mr. and Mrs. Swanson. Garden flowers, roses, glads and buddleia were arranged throughout the home.

Gifts for all the honored guests were cleverly presented by Mrs. Barnes, with envelopes giving instruction-clues to where the gifts were hidden.

Plenty of Ways to Determine
When Bride Becomes a Wife

"WHEN does a bride become a wife?" asks a 19-year-old reader. Some people claim a girl is a bride the first year of her marriage. But I think any wife will agree with me that a girl is no longer a bride when—

Her husband kisses her good-bye in the morning as automatically as he ties his necktie.

She has to ask: "Well, aren't you going to notice my new dress?" She starts to cry and he stalks out of the house instead of taking her in his arms and saying: "What's the matter, Baby?"

He looks annoyed when she asks him for money.

He keeps the whole paper at breakfast, instead of asking her which half she wants.

He no longer listens to her answer to his question: "What did you do with yourself today?"

... JUST TO HEAR HER VOICE

HE stops making his daily phone call from the office just to hear her voice.

He shows signs of irritation when she confesses she was worried about him because he was half an hour late getting home from work.

"What's for dinner?" is his first question on getting home after work. He stops offering to help with the dinner dishes.

He first uses the words, "I wish you wouldn't."

He doesn't glance up from his newspaper when she tries to talk to him.

He looks embarrassed if she calls him a pet name in public.

Those are all indications that the honeymoon is over and the bride has become a wife.

Completing the bridal party, Bernard Olson, of Ambridge, was best man for Mr. Rowan, and ushers were the bride's brother, William Lawhead, and Johnny Carson, of Fair Oaks.

Clarendon Methodist church was the scene of a lovely fall wedding Saturday, when Ruth E. Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mer-vyn Campbell, 34 Anchor street, Clarendon, and Philip E. Freeman, son of Mrs. Fred Freeman, Pittsfield, were united in marriage.

The double ring ceremony was performed at two o'clock before an altar decorated with baskets of fall flowers, palms and candelabra. The Rev. Grant Mottern officiated, assisted by the Rev. Sprigg Harwood. Preceding the ceremony, Jane Nelson played "In the Garden of Tomorrow," "Always," "I Love You Truly," and "Saviour, Like a Shepherd Lead Us." In addition, she played the traditional wedding marches and was accompanied by Paul Reaver, State College, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight slipper satin, basque bodice buttoned down the back and illusion neckline outlined in seed pearl design at the shoulder. Her glove-like sleeves were long and pointed. The full skirt fell over a hoop and lengthened into a full court train. Her fingertip veil of illusion net, trimmed with nylon lace, fell from a crown of orange blossoms, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and white glads with matching ribbon streamers. The bride's only jewelry was a pearl necklace, gift of the bridegroom.

Mary Jane Roselle, Corry, college roommate of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a powder blue nylon, made in colonial style with a net yoke forming an off-the-shoulder neckline, a lace bodice, fitted bodice, capped sleeves, and a hooped skirt with rows of lace. For headpiece, she wore a matching crownless picture hat with a finger-tip veil. Her mitts matched her dress and she carried a colonial bouquet of yellow glads.

Russell Freeman served his brother as best man, and ushers were Andy Dyjak, Pittsfield, and Earl Campbell, brother of the bride, Rochester, N. Y.

The bride's mother wore a navy crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of yellow mums. Mrs. Freeman wore a brown frock with aqua and brown accessories, and a corsage of yellow mums.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for 100 guests was held at the Stoneham community house. The buffet table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom figures and surrounded with yellow mums. A color scheme of yellow and white was carried out. Mrs. Earl Campbell, sister-in-law of the bride, cut the cake and those presiding were Mrs. Paul Reaver, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Naldo Garber, aunt of the bride. Ruth Sedon was in charge of the guest book.

Out of town guests were from Sheffield, Warren, Youngsville, Pittsfield, State College, Indiana, Corry, Larimer, Meadville, Bradford, Jamestown, Buffalo, Rochester, Lancaster, Townline, and East Aurora.

A MESSAGE FOR PENN-FURNACE AND IRON WORKERS AND THE PEOPLE OF WARREN

Tomorrow, September 26, employees of the PENNSYLVANIA FURNACE AND IRON COMPANY will, by secret ballot, determine their collective bargaining agent. They will choose between the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, C. I. O., and the Communist-led UE.

It is important that the seriousness of this Labor Board election be brought to the attention of not only the employees of PENN FURNACE AND IRON, who will do the voting, but also to the attention of all Warren citizens interested in keeping America free from the treachery of Communism. Yes—as the US Secretary of Labor, Maurice Tobin, stated during May of this year: "UE is Communist-dominated. This is not an issue of trade unionism but of basic Americanism . . ." He further declared: "I congratulate the C. I. O. on deciding at its last convention to get rid of every trace of Communist infiltration."

UE was promptly expelled at the convention and the IUE, chartered by C. I. O. to replace UE, became one of the largest affiliated groups within C. I. O. Today, as a result of hundreds of elections conducted by the National Labor Relations Board, the IUE-CIO has bargaining rights for some 300,000 workers in the electrical, radio and machine industry.

Evidence is overwhelming that the dues money, paid by workers who belonged to UE, was used to further Communist Party activities and handed to a score or more party front organizations. Out of a staff of 330, more than 300 of UE's employees have been conclusively identified as Communist Party members at one time or another while working for UE. UE's two top leaders, James Matles and Julius Empsak, have records dating back to the early thirties, not merely as party members but as important functionaries.

Before Congressional committees, at UE conventions, in the daily and labor press, Matles and Empsak have been cited as Communists hundreds of times. So has practically every field organizer and international representative the two have placed on the UE's national payroll. Seldom, if ever, have the charges been denied.

Our United States government has been seriously concerned with Communist infiltration in defense industries in this country. The evidence is so clear that UE, as a national organization, is a hotbed of Communism, that the Atomic Energy Commission barred UE from representing employees in atomic plants.

"THEY (the UE) CAN'T HAVE ANY ORGANIZATION IN THE AREA WHERE WE OPERATE" . . . said the ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION, publicly recognizing UE's threat to the security of this nation and has bluntly refused to give UE's Communist leadership any opportunities to walk into an Atomic Energy Plant.

Latest action taken by responsible authorities in this country to protect our national interests, especially during the current crisis in Korea, has led to a citation for contempt of Congress against UE's top leaders, Empsak and Matles. They refused to affirm or deny before a Congressional Committee that they are or are not members of the Communist party.

We have pointed out some of the background in this serious struggle to rid American labor unions of subversive influence, so as to stress the national significance of the September 26th election here among Warren's PENN FURNACE AND IRON workers. These workers are not engaged in an isolated, insignificant Labor Board election to determine what bargaining agent they want. By their secret ballot votes, the PENN FURNACE AND IRON employees will be using their secret weapon against Communism. They will be doing their part to uproot those Stalinists hiding behind the cloak of unionism who are doing everything possible to destroy the American way of life and replace it with the Russian dictatorship. We, of IUE-CIO, are not accusing a single PENN FURNACE worker of being a Communist; that is important to remember. But by supporting the UE, they will be innocently aiding Communism here in America.

THE MARKETS

New York, Sept. 25—(P)—The stock market sat back and rested today at the 19-year high level reached Friday.

Prices churned around a few cents in either direction without altering the average high record. Rails were mixed, steels unchanged to lower, aircrafts lower, radio-television unchanged to higher, and motors mixed.

The volume of trading was moderately heavy with quite a few blocks of stocks moving across the counter as a result of week-end decisions.

One block of 10,000 shares of Curtis Publishing sold at 9 1/4, up 5/8. That was the largest deal at the opening.

Mackenzie's Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst Britain's Socialist government has won a doubtful parliamentary victory. It narrowly defeated the conservative attempt to compel its downfall over the controversial steel nationalization program.

This attack was led by former Prime Minister Winston Churchill in best fighting form. It was pre-empted by the government's announcement that it would assume control of the country's vital steel industry on January 1.

Churchill made a motion which in effect called for condemnation of this program, and Attlee announced that his government would stand or fall on the vote. The significance of this battle lies in the closeness of the result. The Socialists won by only six votes—306 to 300. This represented an all-out effort by both sides, and involved routing ill members of commons out of bed to attend the session.

This means that the country also is almost equally divided (or was at the time of the general election last February) over the question of steel nationalization. That was the major issue of the election, in which Attlee sought a mandate for his program and got it by a hair's breadth.

Churchill naturally made the most of this almost fifty-fifty division of the country, and accused the Socialists of using their slender margin to "knock the other half" about. As a matter of fact there have been reports that some of the Socialist leaders, including Attlee himself, haven't been too happy about the opposition to the steel program. Socialist doctrinaires, however, have insisted on going the limit in nationalization. Steel nationalization in England of course is in a different category from other industries, barring coal. Steel production is the very heart of the country's economy in normal times, and is doubly so now that the nation is in the midst of the great defense program.

Naturally this situation brings out the most vigorous of the ideological arguments pro and con. The Socialists reiterate that control of this great industry by capitalists is a menace to the national interests. The opposition retorts that this is no time to remove directors who for years have been running the steel industry successfully, and replace them by government direction.

In short, this bitter battle is the epitome of the political differences between Socialism and Capitalism. Obviously it will have to be ironed out before the government can claim a clear mandate from the almost equally divided electorate to go "all out" in inaugurating Socialism.

Letters to the Editor

R. D. 1
Sugar Grove, Pa.

Dear Editor,

I just couldn't resist writing after reading the article in last Tuesday's paper regarding the food being served to the 28th Division of Pennsylvania. It stated there were very few gups.

My son, Michael E. Matve, left with Company I from Warren, September 10th, and the letter I received dated September 15th said in part: "This army life isn't bad. We have a show and a post exchange where we can buy most anything we are in need of, and we are fed well." My boy is going on 18 and he has quite an appetite so when he says they got enough to eat, I wouldn't doubt his word. This letter is to relieve all relatives of any worry they may have about their loved ones not being fed well.

Mrs. Betty Ann Matve.
